COURSE DESCRIPTION

Max R. Gaspar, M.D., was an attending surgeon at the Los Angeles County + University of Southern California Medical Center for over fifty years, and served as Chief of Vascular surgery at LAC+USC for twenty-five years. His teaching and scholarly accomplishments have had a lasting impact on vascular surgery in Southern California. This annual symposium, which honors Dr. Gaspar, addresses a specific topic of interest to physicians and surgeons who care for the patient with vascular disease.

The topic of the 2013 Gaspar Symposium is “Contemporary Management of Venous Disease.” A distinguished faculty has been assembled for the symposium which is designed to update the attendee on the current status of the evolving field of venous disease. Fourteen didactic lectures will be given to encompass the topics of diagnosis and treatment of venous disorders, management of acute venous thrombosis and chronic venous insufficiency. Panel discussions will be utilized to encourage audience participation. This year we are delighted to have Dr. Gregory L. Moneta, Professor of Surgery and Chief of the Division of Vascular Surgery at the Oregon Health & Science University in Portland, Oregon. Dr. Moneta is a leader in vascular surgery and venous disease, having served as the president of the American Venous Forum as well as the Western Vascular Society. Dr. Moneta will give his symposium address on September 26 followed by is Gaspar Lecture the following day, September 27, at the USC Health Sciences Campus.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Demonstrate the management of common hypercoagulable states.
- Assess the treatment of lower extremity deep venous thrombosis.
- Assess the evaluation of chronic venous disease.
- Identify treatment options for the management of chronic venous disease.

The program and objectives have been developed in the context of desirable physician attributes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This course is intended for physicians, nurses and other healthcare professionals in the areas of cardiovascular disease, emergency medicine and general practice who care for patients with venous disease who seek to enhance their understanding of vascular medicine, vascular surgery, endovascular therapy and treatment options to optimize management of their patients.
